"Our Sweethearts," W. J. Bergman; Reception to Dr. Cohen—

On Tuesday evening of this week an elegant reception was held at the home of Mr. D. S. Hart and his sister, Mrs. Grossberger, in honor of Rabbi Cohen of Galveston. After a lecture by the Rabbi at Temple Freda the guests adjourned to this hospitable home, where all was bright and charming, to greet this noted guest. Upon arrival, the guests, greeted in the hall by Mr. Hart, passed into the drawing room, where Mrs. Grossberger, Rabbi Cohen, Mrs. W. S. Wilson and Mrs. P. M. Rayson gave words of welcome. In this room were beautiful sprays of flowering quince, the heralds of spring, which seemed to reflect the wonderful colors in the tapestry wrought by the hostess. In the library, Mr. Briscoe rendered beautiful numbers on the piano during the entire evening. Violets on piano, baskets of them on mantel, cabinets and table, gave additional beauty to the artistic furnishings of this room. Palms and ferns were banked around the mantel and the beautiful calla lilies reared their stately heads to give beauty and charm. At the entrance to the dining room the talented and attractive daughters of the home, Misses Regina and Rosa Hart, dispensed punch from the brimming bowl, embellished in violets. A most beautiful collation, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, cakes, wine, salad and delicacies, which only Mrs. Grossberger knows how to prepare, were served buffet style by Misses Irene Board and Adele Rayson. In the center of the table, a huge bowl of violets rested on a reflector, violets were scattered around the bon-bon dishes, which held the palatable home-made confections, and the soft glow of many shaded candles shed a radiance over all. This was a delightful courtesy to Rabbi Cohen and each guest felt it a privilege to meet and talk with this man, whose eloquence and good deeds have made him known far and wide. Mr. Hart and Mrs. Grossberger, who always entertain royally, mingled among their guests in their gracious manner, which made each and all feel the cordiality of this home.

Mr. Edgeworth Webb

Entertained Miss Classmates—A manifestation of the regard in which the members of the graduation class of Allen Academy are held by Mr. Edgeworth Webb, who is quite a popular member, was evidenced on Thursday evening, when he entertained with an elaborate dinner complimentary to them at the handsome home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Webb. This hospitality was one of the most enjoyable and pleasing affairs occurring lately, and could not have been anything but a grand success under the planning of the genial host's mother, who is an adept in the art of entertaining.

The appointments of the table emphasized the class colors, pink and white, which shades were effectively developed throughout the decorations and the six-course menu so beautifully served. Pink carnations were embodied in the arrangements with unusually effective results, and their natural fragrance as well as their beauty lent a delightful suggestion to the general attractiveness of the scene. For the centerpiece a mirrored plaque gave just the desired elevation to a handsome crystal vase of pink carnations. Crystal holders tied with bows of pink mulline held lighted tapers whose mellow radiance added to the pretty effect. Crystal dishes held salted nuts, and the place cards were embellished with pink forget-me-nots. Boutonnieres for the gentlemen and a corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas for the only girl graduate emphasized the dominant tone used. The appetizing viands listed on the menu were:

Fruit Cocktail.
Deviled Crabs. Saratoga Chips.
Roast Turkey.
Dressing. Rice.
Asparagus on Toast.
French Peas. Celery.
Stuffed Tomatoes.
Hot Rolls. Apple Jelly.
Fruit Salad.
Crackers.
Strawberry Cream. Pecan Cake.
Cheese Tidbits. Coffee.
Clears.

Mr. Renick Smith filled the position of toastmaster with admirable ease and cleverness, and with his ready repartee made the evening one of delight. Clever toasts were given by the following: "The Seniors," Victor LeTulle; "The Juniors," Thad Knittle; "The Host," Robert Trant; "The Boys," Miss Fannie Allen; "Our Girl Graduate," Edgeworth Webb; "The Faculty," Ebert Slataper; "The Faculty," J. C. Graves; "Our School," Renick Smith; "Our Football Team," Ray Bittle; "Our Mothers," Robert Lamp; "Friendship," Mervin Peters;

"Our Sweethearts," W. J. Bergman; "Our Dads," Rufus Vandiver.

Miss Fannie Allen, who possesses such a sweet personality and who is held in such esteem by her classmates, is the only girl graduate of this progressive boys' school, and seated with her around the table were Messrs. G. M. Bittle of Bryan, Robert Trant of Bryan, Edgeworth Webb of Bryan, W. J. Bergman, Victor LeTulle, Rufus Vandiver, Thad Knittle, Robert Camp, Renick Smith, J. C. Graves, Mervin Peters and Ebert Slataper.

At 9 o'clock a congenial company of girls, who had been invited to spend the remainder of the evening, gathered in the music room, where beautiful Easter lilies had been arranged in great profusion. Music and contests furnished a delightful program of entertainment. The girls present were Misses Ruth Boatwright, Annie Belle Batte, Aubrey Wilkerson, Evelyn Sanders, Mary James, Florine Batte, Della Lawrence, Myrtle James, Fannie Allen, Sarah Williams and Marjorie Bittle.

Celebrated Fourth Birthday—

At the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Boatwright, on Thursday afternoon, their little granddaughter, Miss Lella Law Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, celebrated her fourth birthday with a joyous Easter party. She received her guests with greetings of childish welcome, and her bright, happy countenance told plainly of the bounding joy in her childish heart. Choice gifts, betokening the favor in which she is held by her youthful friends, were evident on this occasion. The group of little children in their pretty summer frocks, with dainty sashes and ribbons, made a charming picture on the lawn, where all sorts of games suited to their years were played. A gayly colored Easter basket embellished with a small rabbit, was given each guest and a hunt for Easter eggs in the grass proved a happy pleasure for all. Little Miss Frances Smith won a keepsake doll dressed in pink silk as a reward for finding the largest number of eggs. Master Calder Street of Houston, among the boys, was fortunate in the hunt and was given a baseball bat. Various other games and contests were indulged in, and a delicious fruit punch served from an attractive table refreshed the children during their spirited play. Cream garnished with red cherries and angel cake was served in the dining room. The central ornamentation of the table was a nest of green straw filled with Easter eggs on which sat a large white rabbit. Souvenirs of rabbits, chickens, ducks, etc., were at each child's plate. A pleasant aftermath to the serving of refreshments was the cutting of the birthday cake, which was wreathed in pink flowers and which held four pink tapers. The ring was cut by Marie Elizabeth Webb, the dime by Billie Oliver, the button by Hendrix Conway and the thimble by Ruth Beard.

Mrs. Hoyle and Miss Board Entertain—

Mrs. S. C. Hoyle and Miss Ada Board entertained informally this afternoon in honor of the charter members of the Bachelor Girls' Club at the attractive cottage home of the former. Mrs. T. B. Sammons of Mission, formerly Miss Lucy Board, who assisted in organizing this club, is enjoying a visit to her mother, and to her presence is due the honor of this pleasant affair. The dainty violet was featured in all the appointments of this entertainment, and in keeping with the springlike afternoon the reception suite was exquisitely beautified with a profusion of violets arranged in wicker baskets, the handles of which were bowed with purple mulline. The arrangement of the tables, surrounded by animated players, made this one of the most beautifully appointed card parties of the early spring. Five hundred was indulged in progressively, and the hours speedily passed away. The guests were served during the contest with lavender mints. The daintiest of violet score cards were used in keeping score, and a violet picture, prettily framed, was given the guest winning the high score. Corsage bouquets of violets and ferns, marking the tables, were cut for by the guests. The serving of grape ice and angel cake formed a fitting finale to this graceful hospitality. The invited guests were: Mesdames S. H. Dunlap, W. C. Davis, J. C. Burns, J. B. Bagley, J. A. Moore, E. H. Astin, J. T. Swancoat, M. B. Parker, G. W. Smith, Jr., Ed Hoffman, E. J. Kyle, M. F. Dansby and Miss Arie Cole. These were girlhood friends of Mrs. Sammons and each one assured her of the genuine pleasure her presence afforded them. Mrs. Hoyle and Miss Board are efficient hostesses, and in this pretty card party they fully sustained their reputation.

Junior League Entertained—

The Junior League of the Methodist Church had quite an enjoyable entertainment last evening in the church parlors. Quite a large number of guests assembled in the spacious rooms, where a quantity of dainty viands, artistically arranged in baskets and bowls, furnished the decorations, which were greatly admired. The evening was brimful of pleasurable contests that entertained and kept the guests constantly amused. Musical selections, both instrumental and vocal, were contributed by a number of the guests, proving quite a treat to all. Delicious fruit punch was served during the evening.

Clean-up Crusade Organized—

In response to the call of the members of the Young Ladies' Reading Club, the several committees from the other clubs of the city to co-operate in a proposed clean-up campaign in Bryan, met them on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. John Herrington, the president of this progressive club of young ladies called the meeting to order, and by request of those present, Miss Malcolm McInnis explained the plan of work to be inaugurated.

It was the sense of the meeting that the Civic League take the initiative in the proposed campaign, as it is in direct line with its work, and that the other clubs of the city assist in every way possible. In view of this fact, Mrs. G. W. Emory, president of the Civic League, was called to the chair and presided over the meeting; Miss Malcolm McInnis was made secretary.

Much discussion, evidencing enthusiasm and earnestness in the proposed undertaking, characterized the meeting, and the ladies feel encouraged in beginning this worthy work of sanitation and civic pride.

The following notes from the secretary minutes show that the work is being laid out on plans that insure success:

The city of Bryan will be divided into quarter sections, with Anderson street and Railroad street as the dividing lines. Each section will be under the supervision of a district president and her committee, these four districts to make weekly reports to the executive committee in charge.

Cash prizes will be given for the largest piles of trash gathered, these prizes to be awarded on a certain date to be announced later.

Mrs. John Herrington and Miss Vivian James were appointed to see Mayor Harris and arrange for the hauling away of the trash when accumulated.

The district presidents, with their committees, follow:

Northwest section—Mrs. Tyler Haswell, president; Mrs. Seth Mooring, vice president; Misses Irene Board and Cora Garth.

Southwest section—Mrs. M. W. Sims, president; Mrs. Tallafiero, vice president; Mrs. Allen Myers, Mrs. John Herrington, Miss Allie Conway, Miss Teodice Hickman.

Northeast section—Mrs. G. W. Emory, president; Mrs. Walter Higgs, vice president; Miss Sara Allen, Miss Vivian James, Miss Adele Rayson.

Northwest section—Mrs. A. M. Waldrop, president; Mrs. W. B. Cline, vice president; Miss Malcolm McInnis, Miss Lucille Batte.

The amounts of the cash prizes to be awarded, the rules of the contest, and the date of the beginning and closing will be announced in these columns as soon as arrangements are completed.

The city of Galveston has just completed a clean-up campaign which covered a period of six weeks and cost that city $1,000 in money.

Bryan's brave and progressive women, in view of the unsanitary and unsightly conditions in many parts of the town, dangerous from the viewpoint of health, and repulsive to the eye of civic pride, have undertaken this Herculean task alone and ask the support and assistance of every loyal man, woman and child in the accomplishment of the work. Watch the columns of The Eagle for announcements in regard to the clean-up campaign for Bryan.

The social meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, which was announced for Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Cole, has been postponed until a later date.

Woman's Club Elects Officers—

The annual study term of the Woman's Club of this city closed Wednesday of this week.

From the first Wednesday in October to the first Wednesday in April of each year, this club meets regularly and pursues the course of literary work laid down in its year book. This year book, or program, is prepared in advance by a program committee appointed by the president, and comprises weekly study and reading from some special book or books, original papers bearing upon the subject of study, a table talk on art, musicians or architecture, as the club may select, and also musical numbers. Beside this splendid program, the members answer roll call with current events, which is not only interesting and instructive, but keeps the members well versed in the important news items of the day.

Mrs. W. S. Wilson has served the club this year as president, and under her leadership the entire term has been one of pleasure and profit. Through her influence and by her direction the club members have put their energies into broader circles of usefulness than ever yet attempted by the Woman's Club. Mrs. Wilson is a woman of culture and also a woman of broad and practical views, and the club members have been the beneficiaries of her splendid ideas. Through competent committees, she continued the work of assisting in the improvement of our public library, the beautifying of the grounds around the building, etc., and the result of this year's labor along these lines is beautifully in evidence. Good seeds have also been sown in other fields of usefulness, which may at some propitious season bear added fruit of public benefit and pleasure.

At the meeting of the club on last Wednesday the business session was an important one, for the annual report of each officer was given, and the cabinet of new officers for the coming year elected. Mrs. W. S. Wilson was elected delegate and Mrs. L. L. McInnis, alternate from the Woman's Club of this city to the district meeting of the S. F. W. C., which convenes in Navasota during the last days of April. It is gratifying news to her club sisters and also to the people of Bryan to know that Mrs. M. W. Sims has been appointed to represent the State at large at the biennial meeting of the National Federation in Chicago this spring. Mrs. Sims will attend, and with Mrs. Pennybacker in the president's chair and Mrs. Sims as a delegate, Texas will be nobly represented and Bryan honored.

The annual election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows: President, Mrs. John H. Allen; vice president, Mrs. W. C. Davis; recording secretary, Mrs. S. C. Hoyle; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. P. Bryan; treasurer, Mrs. E. H. Astin; parliamentarian, Mrs. P. M. Rayson; critic, Mrs. S. W. Horne; reporter, Mrs. R. O. Allen.

A delightful social hour followed the FOUR SOCIETY conclusion of business, at which time the gracious president, assisted by Misses Sara Allen, Martha Rivers Allen and Adele Rayson, served brick cream moulded in the club colors of green and white, with angel food cake.

Thus ended most pleasantly the nineteenth annual term of this splendid literary club, which is composed of some of the most brilliant and capable women of Bryan.
